

Digital Transition Schedule and Channel Lineup

When the transition to digital begins, the display channels will remain the same; just the signal will change for customers using a Mediacom digital adapter. Customers with newer TVs that have built-in digital tuners will not need a Mediacom digital adapter and can view channels 23 through 78 via the QAM channel lineup listed below. TVs with built-in digital tuners may need to be re-scanned to view all channels.

Phase 1: The following channels will move to a digital signal.
